LOVE IS NOT BLIND.

[James A. Waldron in The Current.] The maid I love is richly graced; All human beauties ever traced By poet-hand or artist-brush Are hers. Her smile, her maiden blush, Her soul-lit eyes, her sprightly wit, Her tresses, through which sunbeams flit, A mouth outlined like Cupid's bow, A neck that rivals driven snow, A voice like some dear instrument A breath as sweet as meadow mint-These and a thousand other charms Have wakened in me love's alarms. And "Love is tlind," the sages say How false is this—what fallacy! The maid I love—whose charms I sing With fancy's brightest coloring— Has faults that even I can see.

Her greatest one? She loves not me! The Colored People in Washington.

[Joe Howard in Boston Herald.] Another feature that struck me during my stay in Washington was the condition of the colored people, which I find absolutely unchanged, except in one respect, and that for the worse. The hack drivers are the same indolent, uninformed, slouchy, good natured daddies they always were; the women at large are the same indolent, careless, slatternly creatures they always were; the young men are cheeky, impertinent, "sassy;" the young women are better dressed, whiter, more intelligent. The prettiest women there during inauguration week were colored women. They went in droves from place to place, they were everywhere upon the streets, they punctuated the vast assemblage in front of the capitol, and on every stand could be counted by the score. I saw neither colored man or colored woman, except as servants, in the ball-room, although at the Carfield hall and at the Grant ball they were conspicuously

I should say the colored population in the city of Washington is in a worse state to-day than it ever has been. Whether this is because there has been an exodus from the south-for very many of these negroes are clearly, unmistakably southern-or because hard times affect them quicker and more radically than the white, is a question I am unable to answer. tried several negro hack drivers while there, and, with one exception, found them ready and obliging, but lacking in esprit, and uninformed as to localities.

Raining in London.

[Chicago Herald "Walks and Talks."] "I heard a story in New York," said Emory Storrs, "the other day that rather amused me. You know the Knickerbocker club there is the nursery of the Anglo-maniac. You don't find anything at the Knickerbocker club but b. and s., as they call it, and English literature. English newspapers are daily filed; footmen and tigers abound, and the whole atmosphere of the place is the one eye-glass order. A friend of mine, Capt. Bacon, was coming up the street in front of the club-house, when a young man whom he knew came out. "Why, Jack," he said, "what's the matter? Got your trousers rolled up and an umbrella spread. Why, it is a bright day-what does it

"Yes, dear boy. Sun here, you know, but they've just got a cable in the clubhouse that it's rainin' in Lunnon. You

Comparative of Stock Feed. [Chicago Times.]

Experiments have been made in England as to the comparative value of good hay for stock, with the result that it is estimated that 100 pounds of hay are equal to 275 pounds of green Indian corn, 400 pounds of green clover, 442 pounds of rye straw, 360 pounds of wheat straw, 160 pounds of oat straw, 180 pounds of barley straw, 153 pounds of pea straw, 200 pounds of buckwheat straw, 400 pounds of dried corn stalks, 175 pounds of raw potatoes, 504 pounds of turnips, 300 pounds of carrots, 54 pounds of rye, 46 pounds of wheat, 59 pounds of oats, 45 pounds of mixed peas and beans, 64 pounds of buckwheat, 57 pounds of Indian corn, 68 pounds of acorns, 105 pounds of wheat bran, 167 pounds of wheat, pea, and oat chaff, 179 pounds of mixed rye and barley chaff, 59 pounds of linseed, and 330 pounds of mangel wurzel.

> Vienna's Public Baths. [English Mechanic.]

The public baths of Vienna are said to be the finest in the world. The building itself is situated in the heart of the city, and incloses a basin 156 feet in width by 578 feet in length, and varying in depth to twelve feet. The enormous quantity of water contained in this basin is renewed three times a day. The whole establishment has accommodation for 1,500 persons, and is open from May 1 to October 31, and from 5 in the morning until dusk. There is also a bath, restricted to ladies, open from 9 in the morning un-til 1, and the Vienna ladies are especially good swimmers.

Dakota Mirag s.

[Western Letter.] Remarkable mirages are among the atmospheric curiosities in Dakota At Darlington a few mornings since the Wesington hills, over sixty miles distant, could plainly be seen in all their magnificent splendor in the horizon of the north. The mirages occasionally seen are phenomenal. Yorktown, Kimball, and other towns are plainly visible, floating, as it were, in the clouds. The hills on the west side of the Missouri river are also visible, and afford the observer a landscape the beauty of which cannot be described by pen.
